Keeping Pace

The ever-increasing cost of tuition and general college expenses are reflected in the amount of the scholarships awarded to the Founders' Memorial Scholarship winners this year. The four recipients each received $2,000, an increase of $500 over the preceeding year. The Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation is able to keep up with the rising cost of attaining a college degree because of the continuing generosity of Thetas in supporting the Foundation.

Cover Story

We herald the chartering of a Theta chapter at Dartmouth with a scene of that Ivy League college's well known festival, the Dartmouth Winter Carnival. Posing in front of an ice sculpture are pledges of the colony which was installed just after the 1982 Winter Carnival. Building on an original chapter of 14, there are now thirty-seven members in our one hundredth chapter.

The Groundbreaking!

The much anticipated ceremony of turning the first shovel of dirt on the site of our new headquarters on Founders' Road in Indianapolis, was preceded by the bulldozers which got the jump on us. The big machines had already messed up the ground thoroughly by the time 200 Thetas arrived to make a big event out of the beginning of the completion of a dream. The advance gift campaign had made this moment possible. Jinny Edwards and her nation-wide committee of Thetas which successfully solicited enough contributions to get the headquarters building underway deserve a special "thank you" from all of us.

Indiana welcomed us back home with a beautiful autumn day. With a little dirt on their shoes the Thetas went on to a luncheon at Woodstock. Completion is projected for spring, anytime between the middle of March and June 21. That's the duration of spring isn't it?

An Omission

The winners of the best mimeographed newsletter in the college chapter awards category were inadvertently admitted in the Autumn issue convention coverage. We hope to make amends now by recognizing Ohio State as the winner.

112 Years in Hiding

It has been brought to light by a mimeographed fraternity "scoop sheet," the Fraternity Insider, published in Los Angeles, that Kappa Alpha Theta had five founders. The "news" sheet bears the slogan, "Hidden Elsewhere—See it Here." One hundred and twelve years is a long time to hide but this revelation will have to have more documentation before the Foundation will be willing to finance another Founders' Memorial Scholarship for no name. The ramifications are endless.

New Chapter at Dartmouth

An installation team of Theta officers headed north to Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire, last February to initiate the fourteen pledges and present the charter of Epsilon Kappa chapter. It was a milestone for the fraternity, as the new chapter at Dartmouth became the one hundredth active college chapter.

The Ivy League college of 4,500 students became coeducational in 1972. Kappa Alpha Theta joins three other National Panhellenic Conference groups at Dartmouth—Sigma Kappa, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Alpha Chi Omega. There are also 22 men's fraternities in the Greek system at Dartmouth.

Ignoring record low temperatures, alumnae from all over New England came to participate in the weekend activities. Beth Furman Smith, Chi, is chapter advisor and co-installation chairman along with Lynn Miller Cowan, Delta Epsilon.

Mary Boyd, resident counselor, was in charge of the pledge class preparing them for initiation and the responsibilities of running a chapter.

The weekend began Friday night with ceremonies at the home of Lynn Cowan, Delta Epsilon, Arizona State. Assisting at the initiation Saturday morning were collegians from throughout the district—Chi, Syracuse; Lambda, Vermont; and Gamma Zeta, Connecticut. The Installation Banquet was held at the Hanover Inn, attended by friends, parents, and alumnae along with the new initiates. Presentation of the charter by Grand President, Lissa Bradford was the highlight of the banquet.

The celebration continued on Sunday with a reception and tea to which all Dartmouth students were invited to greet the members of the newest sorority on campus.

Installation officers were: Lissa Bradford, Grand President; Lynn Davis, Grand Vice President, Service; Jimmie Hatcher, Alumnae District President, Sue Supple, Grand Vice President-College Program; Nancy Keith, Director of Pledge Education; Nancy Weess, Executive Secretary-Treasurer.

Looking Ahead to 1984

Changing Times Require New Governmental Structure

Grand President Lissa Bradford

By Lissa Bradford

Through the years changes have been made in Kappa Alpha Theta's governmental structure to keep pace with the needs of our growing fraternity. At the 1982 Grand Convention, held this past June in Scottsdale, Arizona, motions were passed to reduce the size of Grand Council from eleven to seven members and to create a new level of officers called "directors." These changes are to become effective following the 1984 Grand Convention.

The last major alteration of the fraternity's governing body came about in 1958. The Grand Council, then consisting of six members, hired the consulting firm of Booz, Allen & Hamilton to conduct a survey and recommend the most effective organizational structure for the administration of the fraternity's affairs. As a result of the Booz, Allen & Hamilton report, the 1958 Grand Convention adopted many constitutional revisions including one to increase the size of Grand Council to 15 members, who would function through specialized program committees. This system of fraternity management served Theta well during the 60's and 70's. But twice during the past ten years, a convention vote has decreased by two the size of Council, signalling a growing sense of need for modification.

Many factors, both internal and external, have worked for change during Theta's past 25 years. It is time, once again, to evaluate, update and innovate, if need be, to keep pace. In 1958 there were 53,268 initiated Thetas; in 1982 there are 113,827. In 1958

Theta had 82 college chapters; in 1982 there are 101. In 1958 there were 74 alumnae chapters and 168 alumnae clubs; in 1982 our alumnae operate 91 chapters and 245 clubs. In 1958 colleges and universities considered themselves responsible for the welfare of their registered students; dormitories and chapter houses had closing hours; students signed in and out; the drinking age in most states was 21 and the legal age in all states was 21. In 1982 the supervision of college chapters has become a complicated and challenging process. The intrusion of government agencies in the affairs of private voluntary organizations has meant more forms and more detailed record keeping. The management of fraternity finances has become sophisticated and costly. The development of existing programs and the expansion into new areas of service, such as leadership conferences and automated chapter accounting, has increased substantially the work load of Council. The rising percentage of women joining the work force in both the U.S. and Canada is dramatic. Not only is the fraternity much larger and the management requirements more demanding, but the number of alumnae available to give full time volunteer service is rapidly diminishing.

Recent Councils have addressed themselves to the following facts: a board of 15, 13, or even 11 members is above the optimum size for efficient decision making; as long as Council members are responsible for both development and implementation of programs and policies, long range planning will be short changed; unless the Grand Council positions are confined to administrative functions, free of operational detail, few qualified women will be attracted to serve. Some efforts have been made to reduce the Council work load by designating responsibility to special officers for such areas as bylaws, scholarship, pledge education, membership selection and the supervision of state chairmen and permanent alumnæ secretaries. Several Council reorganization plans have been developed in recent years, but none had reached the convention floor until June.

The plan which was passed by the 1982 Grand Convention provides for a Grand Council consisting of the Grand President and six Grand Vice-Presidents, one each for College, Alumnæ, Development, Finance, Membership and Personnel. Each of the seven Grand Council members shall chair a standing committee, the members of which shall be called "directors" and shall be responsible for the supervision of specific program or area of activity. This plan would create a Council of manageable size and would free Council members of program responsibilities, allowing more time for evaluation, planning and informed decision making. Furthermore, directorships would provide opportunities for more women to perform needed services for the fraternity without making an excessive time commitment.

The plan needs refinement, further study and supporting legislation. A committee has been appointed to accomplish these tasks in time for the 1984 Grand Convention. Serving on the committee are Gwynn Mannes, College District President XVII, as chairman; Jane Peters, Alumnæ District President VII; Jenifer Ewbank, Legislative Chairman; Stephanie Rychlak, Alpha Chapter President; Julie Gilbert, past president of the Pittsburgh Alumnæ Chapter; and Lissa Bradford, Grand President, ex-Officio.

The committee is soliciting opinions from all interested Thetas and welcomes any constructive suggestions. Our governing system must be well defined in terms of areas of responsibility; it must complement the lifestyle of its volunteer personnel and it must be flexible enough to adjust to the needs of a growing fraternity. The goal of the committee is to develop a structure which will accommodate these needs.

Adelaide Sinclair Remembers Womens' War Role

Adapted from an article by Janice Middleton in The Citizen, Ottawa.

This former Grand President's long career in the government and service of Canada has taught her to "be prepared."

You got so tired, the roof caving in ceased to matter, says Adelaide Sinclair, and you stopped going down cellar. Sleeping in your own bed was worth the risk.

If you still had a bed to sleep in that is. It was 1943, middle of the Second World War. Just more than a year earlier she had been Grand President of Kappa Alpha Theta and now she was serving as a Canadian Naval officer in London. At night she picked her way around shell-weary British sleeping in the underground. As chief administrator in the Womens' Royal Canadian Naval Service, she had left the safety of Canadian soil to spend three months in war-torn England, taking courses which would make her a Captain.

In her spacious Ottawa home, the ugliness of war and concessions made seemed a long, long way away. Almost 83 now, Adelaide Sinclair is still as interested in politics and the state of the world as she was as a young student working on her masters, and she reads the newspapers as carefully on her couch by the picture window as she did in her UN office.

She was talking about women in service in World War II. "They served alongside their men, but few, when they think of veterans, think of women. When recruiting began women were given clerical jobs. As time went on, men realized women were responsible and reliable and could be trusted to keep their mouths shut. As more and more men went overseas, they gave us hush hush jobs. WRCNS controlled traffic coming in and out of Newfoundland, for example.

In her job as administrator, Adelaide Sinclair traveled back and forth across Canada, helping women prove that they could do things as well if not better than their male counterparts.

Adelaide Sinclair went to a private girls college and then to the University of Toronto where she became a member of Sigma chapter. She worked towards a masters degree in economics and political science. She taught three years at the University until her marriage. "I quit teaching then. At that time you didn't have to prove anything and in any case I had already proved myself."

When her husband died in 1938, she found her skills as an economist were valuable to the Canadian government, and she was appointed to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in 1942. Her job was to report on what was going on in other countries and how it affected Canada.

After the war she became assistant deputy minister of welfare and later was one of the Founders of UNICEF. In the post war era she served as delegate to the UN. She continued to serve UNICEF and retired as deputy director in 1967.

One of the things she has learned in her long career is to "be prepared" . . . in war, or in peace.

Illinois Theta's Guiding Hand Creates

LIFELINE

Wanda Whitsitt, pilot and Lifeline Coordinator

Adapted from a story by Annabel Schmelzle in the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette.

Wanda Whitsitt's bumper sticker proclaims, "Woman's place is in the cockpit."

That one sentence bit of theorizing — although whimsical — inspired her to organize a very serious project called LifeLine, Inc.

This still-in-its infancy service, strictly nonprofit, is made up of private pilots and is designed to fly medical supplies, blood, organs and health personnel and patients to areas where needed as well as to assist in disaster relief operations.

The idea for LifeLine came to Wanda Whitsitt, Delta, Illinois, a private pilot and member of the Champaign Chapter of the American Red Cross, when she read about a group of women pilots from Minnesota who flew blood for the Red Cross Regional Blood Center. The women, members of 99's served remote areas. The 99's are an international organization of licensed women pilots. Rather than limit the project to 99's, it became evident that opening it to all qualified pilots would expedite the development of the project.

When Wanda Whitsitt was 47 she felt that she wasn't too old to take up something new so she enrolled in a flying course. "I thought it would be like learning to drive a car. I never thought I'd have to master physics, trigonometry and meteorology."

The training turned out to be a tremendous mental challenge at that time in her life. She said today's young people assume they can do something and they do it. Age brings uncertainty about what you can do.

Flying isn't a cheap hobby and Wanda Whitsitt had a guilty complex about the training. She had a lot of fun and just loved it, but could she justify it?

The result of this self study was LifeLine.

From what she had read about various pilot organizations and their mercy missions she felt this type of service should be organized in Illinois. She started with local pilots, contacted four groups and found that everyone thought it was a good idea. She formed an advisory committee, organized under the Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, which has a 24 hour communication line. Under this organization the pilots have liability immunity.

Wanda was overwhelmed by the enthusiastic response. There is no charge for the service. The pilots get no fuel reimbursement and gas is expensive—$2 a gallon and one hour of flying can cost these emergency pilots $20 or more in a single engine plane.

Her "baby" has gotten off the ground in a big way. The first trial mission was flown in August, 1980. By December 31, 1981, 95 pilots had logged 2,640 mission miles in 23.7 trips.

Wanda Whitsitt is the coordinator for the state. Of the 95 pilots, eight are women. Requests for the flights have to come from a doctor, law enforcement agency, kidney or other organ foundation or the Emergency Services and Disaster Agency. Only one tank of gas is to be involved. In longer trips, a relay system is used.

Wanda Whitsitt, now 50 has a new goal. She is working on her commercial license. While her dreams and skills have developed in heroric proportions, she has also made her presence count in ways that benefit Theta, as president of the Delta Chapter House Corporation, president of the Champaign-Urbana Alumnae Chapter, and recently retired Illinois State Chairman.

ALABAMA

It may have been a little chilly, but the wind was perfect for Delta Omicron's Kite Flight '82. This annual event, which includes a Friday night barbecue and a Saturday afternoon lake party, was again a success. This year it was hard to tell the rushees from the members because it looked as though everyone had known each other for years. In fact when the band stopped playing it was hard to get the party to break up—who wants to spoil a good time anyway. With a hundred-and-one percent participation and a THETA attitude, kite flight wasn't just a spring rush party, it was KITE FLIGHT at the University of Alabama—and it doesn't get any better than that.

There is someone who is very special to the Thetas of Delta Omicron. She is Mrs. Beal, and for several years, the Thetas at the University of Alabama have made her our special friend.

Several years ago we began looking after Mrs. Beal and her husband because both were disabled and confined to the house. After Mr. Beal passed away in the summer of 1981, we continued to care for Mrs. Beal. Each week two Thetas go to her house and visit with her and then do her grocery shopping. Several times during the year, a group of Thetas will get together on a Saturday afternoon and clean her house for her. We buy her gifts for Christmas and her birthday. Whenever she needs shoes or something for the house, there is always a Theta there to take her shopping. Her favorite pastime is watching soap operas, so it isn't unusual to find a couple of Thetas at Mrs. Beal's in the middle of the afternoon watching with her. Whenever she feels like getting out, she will come to the Theta house for dinner. Her special announcement is always to tell us how much she loves us, and that she thinks the Thetas are the greatest!

We get immense satisfaction from our special relationship with Mrs. Beal. That look of love and appreciation on her face whenever she talks about "her girls" is recognition enough for the Thetas at Alabama.

ARKANSAS

Santa Claus reported to the Delta Nu chapter that many children were unhappy at Christmas. The Arkansas Thetas decided to do something about it—and many children who did not expect presents on Christmas morning were surprised at what they found.

Chapter members became involved with the Salvation Army this past year in a project which was to have Arkansas Thetas worked with the Salvation Army last Christmas to provide and dress seventy dolls. The Delta Nu pledge class built and furnished the doll house.

70 dolls dressed and ready for a little girl or boy at Christmas. Each girl chose the doll she wished to give or make clothes for. When the dolls were finished we found that each one had its own personality which couldn't help but bring happiness to some child. There were many different types, such as southern belles and baby dolls and dolls dressed for certain sports.

The pledge class became involved too. They were enthusiastic about the idea and showed their artistic abilities by building a dollhouse, and completely furnishing it.

The chapter enjoyed and profited from the experience and our pride in completing the project has helped the chapter grow within and gain recognition throughout the campus.

BALL STATE

Laughter filled the air as kids of all shapes and sizes ran around the huge colorful museum. The Delta Sigma Thetas had just held the annual Easter party for a group of Headstart children at the Muncie Children's Museum.

Every Saturday morning a group of Thetas heads for the Museum with arms full of decorations and goods for two parties scheduled for that day. Party coordinator is the chapter Service Chairman, Gail Massey.

The parties are anything from birthday celebrations to theme parties. After the party the children are free to explore the museum, a fascinating place filled with cars, tractors, real animals and learning displays.

As Thetas it gives us a sense of pride and accomplishment doing these parties, while at the same time bringing us closer together as a chapter.

Delta Sigma feels this service project helps promote a positive image of sororities in the Muncie community.

Pamela Bales

Ball State Thetas entertained children from the Headstart program at an Easter party in the Muncie Museum.

CARNEGIE-MELLON

Gamma Thetas will do just about anything to raise money for philanthropy. This year we pushed, peddled, and sat to raise money for charities and produced a whopping $8,000 for local Pittsburgh agencies in the 1981-82 school year.

First event was our annual Valentine's Day carnation sale. Thetas peddled and delivered carnations to friends and star-crossed lovers all over Carnegie-Mellon's campus. When the petals, stems and leaves had cleared we had earned $600—half of which went to the Institute of Logopedics, and the other half to Gamma Theta's own philanthropy, the Western Pennsylvania School for the Blind.

But the real fun had just begun. Theta Xi invited us to participate in a week-long pole-sit to raise money for Multiple Sclerosis. A forty foot telephone pole with a platform on top was erected in front of the student union. We sat on it in shifts from April 18-24. Every Theta and Theta Xi was scheduled for five hours of sitting time throughout the week. Believe me it sounds easier when you are on the ground!

The pole didn't get hit by lightning or get blown over, nor did any of us fall off of it—all three very realistic dangers. Local merchants were sponsors and contributed to the $5,000 raised for the Pittsburgh area Multiple Sclerosis Foundation.

The Gamma Thetas were on a roll. We didn't stop at $5,000. When Delta Upsilon suggested that we push two hospital beds through the streets of Pittsburgh on a five-mile trip for the Pittsburgh Children's hospital, we couldn't refuse. We started out at 9 a.m. and solicited shoppers in the Squirrel Hill and Shadside districts of the city. The bed-pushing spectacle raised $2,500 for the hospital.

CLEMSON

Delta Phi chapter at Clemson continues to excel in one of their strongest areas, service. Their traditional service project is the Clemson Child Development Center where we help throughout the year. Clemson's Alumnae Club provided a grant to the Center which enabled them to open a lending library. In addition to assistance to the library, Thetas gave the children a Halloween party and an Easter egg hunt.

Spring semester brought a request for help from the Clemson Council on Aging. We decided to try a fund raiser not used by any other organization on campus. The new project, a swim-a-thon, involved the members of Delta Phi in 1,000 laps and raised more than $500. The funds given to the Council on Aging enabled it to publish a book containing a list of services for the elderly.

DUKE

The Theta chapter at Duke is an example of Greek involvement in devoting both time and effort in various service projects and non-profit organizations.

Our pet philanthropy is Durham's Meals on Wheels, comprised of a group of volunteers which provide hot meals to the homebound five days a week. The Beta Rho chapters covers one route every week. Two members deliver approximately a dozen meals to members of the Durham community. As many of the recipients are unable to see much of the outside world, they warmly welcome the two Thetas delivering their lunch. The project has spurred further interest within the chapter, as one of the members has begun her own route.

As we donate more than just our time to Meals on Wheels, an idea was developed several years ago to raise money for this service project. Each fall, Duke Thetas sponsor the annual Theta Classic, a round robin tennis tournament open to all Duke students. The popularity of the event has been growing each year, resulting in an increased turnout. Local stores donate prizes and coupons for the winners.

By involving ourselves with Meals on Wheels, we participate in activities both on the Duke campus and as members of the Durham community. The intangible feeling of giving of oneself is special for both the individual and the entire Theta chapter.

College Chapter Community Involvement

UCLA

Beta Xi's entrance into campus politics on the UCLA campus did not result in a victory for candidate Karen Skelton who was running for student body president. But it accomplished a great deal for the women students at UCLA as Karen reached the runoffs which was quite an accomplishment for the first woman aspirant for that office in a number of years.

Karen's campaign became a chapter project which had the added effect of unifying a chapter with well over 150 members. No Theta was obligated to help in the campaign, but each person volunteered the time they were able to give, passing out literature, wearing signboards and "demonstrating" support on the green at lunchtime.

By our involvement in the campus election, we as a group gained great admiration and respect from other Greeks as well as the campus community as a whole.

Thetas at UCLA are now regarded as an involved group of women students, concerned about student government on our campus.

CALIFORNIA-RIVERSIDE

Valentine's Day is a day for love and this year the Thetas at Delta Psi chapter showed our love and received love from a very special group of children. Riverside Hospital sponsors a center for emotionally disturbed children, who for various reasons have little or no contact with their families. We held a Valentine's Day party for these children and what a rewarding experience it was!

We baked cupcakes and took milk and games to the children's center on that rainy afternoon. When we arrived, boys and girls ranging in age from three to fifteen greeted us with shy smiles. Introduction and conversation followed with more shy smiles and a few rowdy welcomes from the older kids. Within minutes those smiles were transformed into squeals of laughter as we introduced the first game, "Pin the Heart on the Cupid." After refreshments and more time for talk, we departed, an emotional exit for both children and Thetas.

In one afternoon with a small amount of effort we were able to bring much happiness and laughter to a group of people whose lives have been full of sorrow and confusion.

CALIFORNIA-SANTA BARBARA

Thetas at Gamma Rho chapter brightened the day for residents of the Friendship Manor Retirement Home last spring by bringing them an afternoon of skits, songs and conversation. Organized by Service Chairman Meredith Koenig the program featured Teri Tillotsen, Lori Ann Bettison and Betty Lee giving a sign-language performance accompanying the song,

"You've Got a Friend." A special part of rush, this beautiful act is always well-received by any audience, from young rushee to elderly couples. For a change of pace the Thetas performed the Theta train skit, a fast-paced, hysterical show in which Thetas try to explain what college life is really like. Residents of Friendship Manor also enjoyed the results of many hours of Theta kitchen time—platters of delicious homemade baked goods.

Visiting with the elderly residents and a serenade of Theta songs concluded the visit. Future trips to the Manor are planned and eagerly anticipated.

FLORIDA

This year Delta Theta adopted a service project used by other Theta chapters and succeeded in raising $1,200 for the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation, with the Theta Tennis Classic.

Assisted by Delta Upsilon fraternity, we put together the tournament which was run by Theta Caryl Hippler. Caryl solicited t-shirts from Ten Plus and balls, a banner and other tennis tournament necessities from Penn.

Forty entrants competed in three categories—men's singles, women's singles and mixed doubles. Entrants received a free t-shirt and free admission to a kick-off party at Delta Upsilon. Winners received a trophy, visor and tennis balls.

The tournament was open to all campus organizations and publicized on local radio a week before the event.

HANOVER

Nu chapter combined International Kite Fly Week with Inspiration Week last March. The pledges and their big sisters had their own kite fly in which awards were given for the "highest flight" and the "most enthusiastic" kite flying team.

In addition to the contest, 100 kites of assorted pansy and dragon design were sold with the money going to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation.

IOWA

Beta Omicron's search for a new philanthropy produced the first Hawkeye Sports Auction last October and it proved to be a very successful event.

With committee chairman Jennifer Wimpey, Thetas gathered in the Iowa Fieldhouse before the Minnesota football game to auction off a variety of Hawkeye memorabilia. This included sports items donated by the basketball, football, wrestling and baseball teams. For example, the jersey of basketball stand-out Ronnie Lester was one of the more popular items and left the auction block early.

Philanthropy wins in collegiate fund raisers

We also sold raffle tickets, which promised the lucky winner two basketball seats to the game of his or her choice—home or away.

This one event raised $2,500 for the Wendall Johnson Speech and Hearing Clinic located in Iowa City. The contribution will be used to enhance the clinic's summer residence program, a six-week project providing therapy for children with speech, language, hearing and reading problems.

Clinic Director J. Bruce Tomblin expressed his sincere thanks for the generous Theta support, stating that the assistance was an important factor in the success of the program.

"Because of the members of Kappa Alpha Theta, we did not have to turn down any child for financial reasons," Director Tomblin said. "Without this help, we would not be able to serve a number of children who come from homes with limited budgets."

LAWRENCE

The pledge class of Alpha Psi chapter presented the Lawrence Community with its pledge project, "Boogie for the Hmong," a dance in which all the proceeds went to the Hmong refugee population in Appleton. The dance benefit corresponded well with the other chapter effort aiding the Hmong all year—ongoing clothing drives.

Since the dance was an all campus event, and because it had a special theme—the Sensational Sixties, considerable preparation was involved. Each member contributed her time to the project, insuring success for the event.

And indeed it was. Theta pledges raised $115 for the Hmong refugees and gained the praise of the Lawrence Community for their effort. Sarah Pabst

MIAMI (OHIO)

As the long winter finally turned into spring, Thetas everywhere celebrated International Kite Fly Week. The Gamma Upsilon Thetas are no exception. At Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, Thetas pulled out their favorite kites, many of which were hand made by the members, and spent an April Sunday flying kites, playing games and picnicing with a group of third, fourth and fifth graders from Oxford's One-on-One program. This is a program that arranges for students from Miami University to become "big sisters" and "big brothers" to underprivileged children. The Thetas hosted 25 children for games refreshments and prizes.

The outing was an opportunity for the girls to take time out of their hectic collegiate lives to be with children and to enjoy one of their favorite pastimes—flying kites! Theta has been asked to participate in the One-on-One program again next year.

MISSOURI

A marathon of sports events held last March helped the University of Missouri Thetas and Zeta Beta Taus raise more than $800 for Special Olympics.

The marathon, "Spirit of Sports" began at 6:30 on a Friday evening and lasted until midnight at the student athletic field house.

Our chapters divided into committees to coordinate all phases of the event. One group selected the games and competitions for the events. We sponsored some unconventional events such as pogo stick jumping, juggling and Rubic-cube solving as well as conventional games—racquetball, volleyball and three-on-one basketball. Money was raised from individuals and team prizes were awarded. The prizes ranged from mirrors and two-liter bottles of soft drinks to oven-proof bakeware.

The event proved successful not only in raising money but also in promoting Kappa Alpha Theta through the different avenues of publicity we used. The publicity committee put out a newspaper distributed across campus, explaining the tournament and advertising the businesses which donated prizes.

Thetas have always been known for their strong support of campus organizations. By sponsoring the "Spirit of Sports" we also became recognized for our dedication to service projects.

NORTHWESTERN

Three cases of Wilson tennis balls, baked goods, lemonade, and a group of busy Tau Thetas. What do these all add up to? Each was a contributing factor in the third annual "Theta Tennis Classic," held in May on the Sheridan Courts at Northwestern.

The "Theta Classic" is an annual philanthropic event in which all proceeds benefit the North Shore American Cancer Society. This year we raised more than $200. Proceeds came from several areas. All participants were charged an $18 entry fee, our new initiates held a bake sale, and we sold "Theta Classics" plastic cups filled with lemonade.

The tournament began on Saturday morning and continued through Sunday. Although our Spring formal was held the night before, we still had plenty of support bright and early the next morning. Philanthropy Chairman Kelly Quinn says that with more publicity this event may one day become an all-community program.

OHIO STATE

The Alpha Gamma Thetas at Ohio State found themselves a very successful service project last fall. The road rally was patterned after the event staged at the University of Kentucky and easily adapted to the campus in Columbus.

A road rally is a race in which cars with teams of four people drive a prescribed course, trying to keep to a certain time. The car which finishes closest to the standard time wins. The local chapter of the Ohio State Sportscar Club helped a great deal in routing the course and running the rally. The rally was cosponsored with Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Big ideas pay big dividends for charity

Months of planning went into the road rally. Ads were sold for a publicity poster, teams of Kappa Sigs and Thetas promoted the rally at fraternities and sororities. All the profits made at the door the night of the pre-rally kickoff went to the Institute of Logopedics.

The project netted a first year total of $800. With the backing of the Ohio State Greek System, the road rally is well on its way to becoming one of the more successful projects on campus. Liz Martin

OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma University Thetas team up with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity to sponsor a special project each year at Christmas time . . . our annual party with the children at the J. D. McCarty Center for Handicapped Children in Norman.

Thetas and SAE's play with children, sing carols and serve refreshments to the residents for the Center, ranging in age from 3 to 17. Then Santa, a Sig Alpha, enters the scene and presents gifts to all. We feel that this special contact with handicapped youngsters is well worth the few hours we spend with them.

OREGON STATE

The first week in March was full of sun and fun as the members of Beta Epsilon chapter teamed with Sigma Nu fraternity to raise money for the spring service project. We rode tricycles for 68 hours, raced against other sororities and cheered for the support of the daring Sigma Nu as he jumped on a tricycle over ten, yes, ten Tonka trucks. The Muscular Dystrophy Association was the recipient of the funds raised by all this effort.

On the day of the tri-jump students came from all over to join with the cheering Thetas as we held our breath in suspense as the fearless rider executed a successful jump.

By the end of the weekend more than a thousand dollars had been raised for the M.D. Association. Community businesses were proud to support the event, happy to see their dollars contributing to a good cause. Laura Browning

PACIFIC

For all of us, Easter is the time of year when we look forward to our one week vacation, but to a special group of children from The Dependent Children's Home of Stockton, Easter was a time for discovery and happiness.

Last March Phi chapter had a very successful Easter party for seventeen boys and girls from the Dependent Children's Home in Stockton. The children ranged in age from three to eleven years old.

As they arrived they received baskets filled with treats and then participated in an Easter-egg hunt. A little girl found the hidden silver egg and won a chocolate bunny. Then to the children's delight we had an unexpected visit from the Easter bunny, something many of them had never heard of. Songs and games followed and the party proved to be a great success for the children, ourselves, and the young men from campus who also attended.

In April our chapter received an award from San Joaquin County for our community services benefiting the Dependent Children's Home in Stockton. We also received a letter from our District Assemblyman congratulating us on our community involvement.

PENN STATE

For the third consecutive year the Beta Phi Thetas rallied to win the annual Phi Psi 500 Enthusiasm Award. Here at Penn State, the Phi Psi 500 is that fraternity's philanthropic event. The Enthusiasm Award is a much coveted trophy given to the sorority on campus which shows the most enthusiasm, i.e. raises the most money for the philanthropy.

After six weeks of canning, going on road trips, making submarine sandwiches, and selling T-shirts, the Thetas raised over $2,400, or more than 10% of the total. All money went to the Nittany Mountain Conservancy and Easter Seal Foundation.

And finally, Thetas here raised $300 for the Foundation with a Christmas poinsettia sale.

In other campus philanthropies Beta Phi Thetas placed second in the Delta Gamma Anchor Splash, which benefits blind students here at Penn State, and danced in the Interfraternity Council's annual Dance Marathon. The 48 hour marathon benefits the Four Diamonds Fund, created to help defray the medical costs of children with leukemia at the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center. Mary Lee Schneider

On a cold blustery day in March Alpha Chi Thetas at Purdue held their annual Kite Fly at one of the co-rec intramural fields, following a picnic lunch.

Mary Beth Ebling, activities and service officer, organized the event and the money collected from the sale of kites was given to the Big Brother/Big Sister program in the Lafayette area. The kites not sold were used at the fly, and then were donated to the program.

Alumnæ were encouraged to come and bring their children. The cold wind and a few tangled kite strings didn't make a dent in the happiness produced on that bright sunny day in Indiana. Janet Flahaven

TEXAS

Friday the 13th of November 1981 was a lucky day for University of Texas Thetas and for the Texas Society of Autistic Citizens.

On that sunny afternoon, the Alpha Theta chapter and Kappa Alpha fraternity co-sponsored a street party for Autism, a life-long brain disorder that prevents proper understanding of what a person sees, hears, or otherwise senses.

In preparation for the party, Thetas and KA's applied for permits, arranged for security, and distributed flyers to publicize the fund-raiser.

More than 500 people attended the three hour event which was held in the street block in front of the Theta house. The party featured two live bands which volunteered their services. Profits totalled $700.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN

It was a gray tired May day. The night before it had rained hard, and only slow moving clouds filled the sky. Even the birds were silent on this sad day.

It was not the kind of day Thetas hope for, for the Kite Flite, but leave room for just in case the weather doesn't accommodate. One thing to be said about Thetas is that they are very adaptable.

The ride from Texas Christian University down University Drive was a quiet one. Gamma Psi spirits were as dampened as the day. With finals a week away, and "dead days" underway, the annual Theta Kite Flite seemed lost amidst the confusion.

Into Trinity Park, and past the zoo, all eyes scanned the sky in search for the tell-tale markers of the event. And then we saw them.

Held by our sisters' hands, a line of string angled into the sky to our kites. Theta kites. Though members of other fraternities and sororities were also flying kites, the sky belonged to Theta.

There was an additional special meaning behind this year's Kite Fly. For as the sky helps sustain our multi-colored kites, so too do we help sustain the construction of a new National Headquarters through the sale of kites.

A kite can reach the height of wings with the force of an invisible wind, but can only be controlled by the hand. It may nose-dive and fall, but therein lies the beauty of the kite, for to send the kite off into the sky again, sisters must help one another.

One Theta holds the kite while another runs back against the wind, letting string out, testing, and then watching her kite gradually climb into the sky. Others stand by shouting out encouragement and watching to see how high the kite will fly.

Sometimes we may venture too close to the woods. Danger is found in the dark treetops. But with determination and strength, the kite can be pulled back down to safety to be flown once again.

A day at Kite Flite can encompass Theta life. We join together, friends, yet strangers to experience. We may aim for unattainable heights, but through sisterhood, we learn our individual altitudes.

We share good times—when our kites fly high; and bad—when our kites may falter and fail. And we try to give part of this love to others by inviting them to fly their kites with us.

We reveled in this love and carried it on with us through a night of celebration. It was a feeling only Thetas could understand and appreciate.

But before leaving to prepare for the party, and as the day's breeze began to die, we joined together to laugh, talk, and remember. And as we began to pack cars with coolers, kites, and frisbees, we turned to watch one lone flying kite.

The sky had finally begun to clear and the final blue of the day was seeping past the gray, framing the kite. It was a shining kite of rainbows. And we smiled.

WASHINGTON

The University of Washington needed 17,000 signatures by the end of Spring Quarter, for a lobby group to be set up in Olympia and controlled by a board of directors, made up of representatives from the six public colleges in Washington. At the time of publication the University of Washington only needs 4,000 more, because of the strong support coming from the Greek System in helping to get the first 13,000 signatures. Kendall Wicklund, senior, who is an assistant Legislative Liaison in the U.W. Office of Legislation, and Kelly Vitums, sophomore, an employee for the Associated Students University of Washington Board of Control, provided Thetas at the Alpha Lambda chapter with information about the Washington Student Lobby, and asked for their support. Thetas overwhelmingly encouraged the lobby, providing their signatures and enthusiasm to Kendall, Kelly and all those working to complete the petitions to establish a Washington Student Lobby!

WASHINGTON STATE

Alpha Sigma chapter is proud of its unified spirit as evidenced by the strong support of WSU Thetas for community projects. Perhaps the best example of this was Alpha Sigma's participation in the Dance Marathon for Epilepsy.

Each spring the men of Alpha Tau Omega at WSU sponsor a 52 hour dance marathon to raise money for the Epilepsy Foundation of America. Living groups on our campus join with others in sponsoring a couple to dance for 52 hours. Each group then raises money for epilepsy and prizes are awarded to the group which contributes the most money.

This year the Alpha Sigma chapter teamed up with Acacia to place first in the money raising contest. We raised more than $1400 by selling doughnuts and collecting money from people interested in fighting epilepsy. Each of our dancers receive a first prize scholarship of $500. The Theta/Acacia house teams also won the spirit and noise contests and placed second in the sign contest.

The Dance Marathon is an excellent chance for the living groups at WSU to contribute to a worthwhile organization like the Epilepsy Foundation of America. Alpha Sigmas feel it is very important to support community projects, such as the Dance Marathon, because it is a wonderful opportunity to promote good feelings about the Greek system and Kappa Alpha Theta.

WESTMINSTER

Epsilon Eta chapter with the Beta Theta Pis at Westminster sponsored the second annual see-saw-a-thon. The event held in May lasted for 24 hours from noon to noon. On the evening of the first day Thetas held a cookout inviting alumnae and of course the Betas who pitched in by building a relatively sturdy see-saw. There was one Beta and one Theta on the see-saw at all times—even during the wee hours of the morning. But since everyone worked in half hour shifts, it wasn't so much of a hardship. Money was earned through pledges of money per time see-sawed. All proceeds went to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation for the Institute of Logopedics.

WHITMAN

This spring the Delta Delta chapter started something new for the old. In conjunction with the Walla Walla Oddfellows Home, the Thetas set up an "Adopt-a-Granny" program. Twenty-five young women were matched with older women in the home who had similar interests and who needed a friend. The program was a great success this first year and will be expanded in the future.

Grannies and granddaughters spent time together doing everything from taking walks to talking over cups of coffee to feeding the ducks. The major event sponsored this year was a Mothers' Day Tea when the Thetas took their grannies flowers and cards and spent the afternoon with them. Many of the adopted grannies had had little opportunity to spend time with young people who cared about them. The contact established by this program meant much to them, even causing some tears of joy. The Thetas were able to bring a breath of fresh air and smiles to the lives of many by sharing a little of themselves.

WISCONSIN

Last December, Thetas of Psi chapter hosted a Christmas party for children who participate in the Big Sister and Big Brother programs of Madison. Twenty children attended the party and each child was paired with a member of the chapter. The party began with a candy cane hunt, followed by an opportunity to decorate gingerbread men, to string popcorn and cranberries, to play games and to watch cartoons. Thetas agreed the Christmas party was just what they needed to get into the holiday spirit, and look forward to hosting another one next year.

Northwestern Theta at the Court of St. James

by Betty Stuart Rodgers

Betty Rodgers is a Tau Theta and a noted photographer, having photographed Presidents Eisenhower, Nixon, and Ford; and performers Helen Hayes, Lynne Redgrave, Joan Fontaine, Claudette Colbert, Joseph Cotton to name a few. She is also a graduate of Northwestern's Medill School of Journalism. She is the owner of the Stuart-Rodgers photography studios in Evanston and Chicago and for many years did all the photography for Northwestern Thetas. Last Spring she was a visitor at Winfield House, the residence of the Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Josephine Peters Louis and her husband Ambassador John Jeffry Louis at Winfield House.

It isn't every day that the Thetas have one of their members ensconced in the London Embassy—so it was with great pride that I visited Josephine Peters Louis, Tau, Northwestern, at Winfield House last April and spent some time photographing her and her husband, Ambassador John Jeffry Louis, in their official quarters. It was 28 years ago when I first photographed Josephine as a bride to be! Since then I have photographed their children, their family, their debuts and many of the important events in the Louis family, which includes Kim, a Tau Theta; Tracy, a senior at Williams and John, a freshman at Williams. The dignity of our most important ambassadorial post couldn't be represented by a more perfect couple or family. Their presence in London as "Ambassador to the Court of St. James," appointed personally by President Reagan, is an attribute to our country. Both are tall handsome people and totally adequate socially to be official American host and hostess to the 1000 guests a month their duties expect! The Queen and Royal Family, Earls, Lords, politicians, leaders in diplomacy, arts, theater, etc. are all graciously received at daily or weekly official luncheons, teas, receptions, dinners and balls. Prince Charles and Princess Diana were among the guests this past fall.

Claire Russell acts as social secretary and hand addresses all the invitations, place cards and official "menus" for each event! She and Mrs. Louis have personally handled all the parties—planning menus with the new French cook, who was head chef for President Pompidou of France, arranging the very involved seating arrangements, organizing masses of the flowers grown in the extensive green houses on 12½ acres of gorgeous property in Regents Park that Winfield House occupies. Mr. Hatton as official gardener personally grows the hundreds of hugh orchid plants that were blooming profusely in the official rooms of the house. It is not easy taking care of the 35 rooms and 18 people in official help that it takes to run the American Ambassador's residence, but Mrs. Louis is doing it with great zest. "It is a thrill" she says—"and I feel as if I'm seeing history in the making."

As I arrived she was saying farewell to Secretary and Mrs. Stoessel (he was Deputy Secretary to Mr. Alexander Haig), who spent a few nights there while Mr. Haig, then Secretary of State, was making double round trip flights to the Falklands. The pace was hectic. Unexpected dinners for Mr. Haig and Mr. and Mrs. Stoessel on Tuesday, Thursday out to an official reception, Friday a British social dinner at Winfield House,

Old friends meet in a setting of international diplomacy. Betty Rodgers left, and Josephine Louis in Winfield House, London, the Ambassador's residence, during photographer/writer Rodgers' visit in April 1982.

Saturday, dinner at Windsor Castle, and of course, Wednesday, in between all that was a luncheon for me!

The Louises have already added many lovely gifts to the Embassy and their residence. Although there is an official salary and entertaining allowance given our American Ambassador, according to a recent article in the New Yorker, neither can possibly cover all of the expenses involved in running such a massive program. Mrs. Louis has brought in much of her own china and silver to augment the 150 service "Official" place settings, for instance. Because of the tremendous number of people being entertained, the satin chairs and couches, the rugs, and furniture all show wear faster than normal and must constantly be refurbished. Each room used for entertaining is being repainted or freshened up in some manner. Mrs. Louis has planned a cutting garden on the premises to help supply the constant need for center pieces and floral arrangements in the various rooms. Many wives of former Ambassadors called upon official partyplanners such as Lady Shakerley, cousin to the Queen, who is the top partyplanner in London. But Mrs. Louis says she feels the Ambassador's role should involve the American way as much as possible, and although it takes a tremendous amount of time-consuming planning with her staff, she has so far managed all of the entertaining herself.

Protocol says that the Ambassador must entertain for all sorts of official groups, and therefore many times Josephine Louis knows no one at her own parties! The day I was there she was brought the list of guests expected at 8:00 and she said, "Well, let's take a look and see if I know any of these people coming tonight!" Like Mrs. Reagan, Josephine Louis has selected clothes for her "tour of duty" only from American designers. She says she needs endless outfits, and one of the duties of her personal maid is to tag all of her dresses after she has worn them, with dates worn and where!

"This is a fairy tale life," said Mrs. Louis, "and of course I love it, and feel so privileged. This has been an exciting year and one we will never forget."

Ambassador Louis has donated the new Official Ambassador's car, and the recently built paddle tennis court which stands quite near the tennis courts. The refurbishing of the personal living quarters on the 2nd floor had to be accomplished on their own, also.

Other former Ambassadors have also contributed to the house. The Walter Annenbergs totally redecorated Winfield House 12 years ago and in doing so added the priceless antique hand-painted wallpaper that they found for the Green room. Even though it was over 200 years old, they were able to have it stripped from its original walls and rehung at Winfield House. Mrs. Louis remarked that it fit perfectly and is a contribution that should be a priceless heritage for the future.

The sense of respect that the Louises hold for their post and the heritage of Winfield House shows in their gracious manner not only with the honored guests, but with their staff as well. I was impressed to hear the chef, the butler, the driver and gardener all share the feeling of unity and cooperation with the Louises to give our important Ambassadorial setting the dignity it deserves.

USC President Cites Thetas

Omicron chapter at USC has been honored by the University of Southern California and its President James H. Zumburge as the recipient of the President's Award for Sorority Excellence, President Zumburge's personal recognition of the most outstanding sorority at the University.

The ten criteria evaluated by President Zumburge and his six member committee included scholarship and pledge education programs, campus involvement, rush, alumnae, social programs, finances, and university community relations.

One of the most influential factors in the selection was Theta's wide campus involvement. Omicron points to the outstanding achievements of several members who helped bring the honor to the chapter:

Kelly McNamara, Songfest Chairman, member of the Order of Omega, Panhellenic delegate, and Cambridge summer scholar; Kelly Gabriel, Songfest Financial Director, Program Coordinator for the Washington, D.C. Semester, member of Order of Omega, Mortar Board, Phi Beta Kappa, Blackstonians, Pi Sigma Alpha, Trustee Scholar; Angi Knapp, Greek Week Cochairman, and Lynn Brombach, USC Song Girl!

Theta was also represented in University Relations, Student Government, academic and honorary organizations, inter-Greek activities, as well as five varsity women's sports teams.

Although there has been a President's Award for Fraternity Excellence for some time, this is only the second year that sororities have also been recognized. We are overjoyed to receive the honor and will strive to maintain the excellence which is Theta.

Federation . . . a Proven Plan

A head count of Thetas by geographical location taken at the time of the Centennial in 1970, revealed that the greatest number of Thetas lived in California and mainly in Southern California.

In order to make the most of this membership concentration, Thetas in the Los Angeles area have gone a step beyond the usual organization of alumnae chapters and clubs. Thirty-three years ago in 1949, the Federation of Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae in Southern California was formed to provide an opportunity for alumnae chapter and club representatives to get together to share ideas and problems and to combine their efforts to support Theta events.

Federation is made up of immediate past presidents of each alumnae chapter and club as representatives, and with current presidents also attending. This gives the group strong, experienced leadership. Since its founding, Federation has raised more than $70,000 for many local philanthropies and the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation.

In even years a large Founders' Day celebration is held and in odd years all groups combine to put on a benefit. In 1982, 300 Thetas attended the Founders' Day celebration at U.S.C.

Cost of gasoline and demands on the time of representatives has caused Federation to limit the number of meetings each year. Meetings are held at the USC or UCLA chapter house and each member takes a turn providing lunch. Twelve alumnae clubs and chapters attend Federation, working together to plan Founders' Day and the biennial benefit, as well as receiving pledging statistics following rush and other district and national news.

Meet Donna Gill—Camper Extraordinary

By Linda Mackaman Young, BK and Kathryn Anderson Mackaman, BK

Donna Gill's Rock Springs Guest Ranch is appropriately named for the vital, distinguished lady who "built it on a dream." Donna Gill, truly an extraordinary person, whose strong character and demand for the best from everyone seems to exert a positive influence on all who know her. The uncompromising ideals upon which her girls' camp and her guest ranches are operated have touched hundreds of lives through the years; today her personal influence is a tremendous factor in the success of Rock Springs Guest Ranch.

Donna's home was in Lebanon, in Central Oregon, where she remembers her parents always encouraged the adventurous nature and active, curious mind that led her into ideas and experiences not generally considered "proper" for girls and women at that time, and made it possible for her to have—as she puts it—"unusual growth experiences." From Lebanon Donna went to the University of Oregon, where she became a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Always a girl with an outgoing, warm personality, Donna knew she wanted a career where she would work with people on a personal basis. It seemed only natural, after years spent in camping that she would establish a camp of her own, a creative kind of camp, less structured and more person-oriented, where her goals would be achieved through the caring given to each girl and her particular needs and interests.

To 24 year old Donna it seemed entirely feasible to combine operation of a summer camp with school teaching, so together she and a close friend, with only $1,200 between them, launched the daring project. After long search they chose a site on Duck Lake, north of Sisters, OR, in the National Forest. It took weeks of persistent persuasion, but the girls were finally granted their lease, and the Forest Service built a road for them into the wilderness camp site. In June, 1935 Camp Tamarack was opened to girls from nine to seventeen years, "the first private girls' camp west of the Rockies." The success of the camp seemed to justify her new and unusual ideas, but it was the inspiration provided by Donna herself, and the impact of her magnetic personality that brought girls back to the camp again and again.

Donna, by then the sole owner, closed the camp during World War II, and served in the Coast Guard as an officer in charge of recruiting, where, she says, she "learned about discipline." Reopening Camp Tamarack was an exciting time and the camp continued to grow and receive increasing recognition. But as the number of campers grew, there were too many girls to permit the personal contact and friendship that she felt necessary; also her feeling of responsibility was becoming awesome. So she began to think of having a different kind of place, one where parents could also come, and share responsibility for the girls' welfare and safety. Donna waited for a buyer who would share her philosophy; after twenty-one years of devotion she sold the camp in 1955 to former counselors who still operate on her formula with great success.

Then Donna began to develop a place for families: Indian Ford Guest Ranch on a beautiful mountain view site near Sisters, OR. There she established her tradition of true Western hospitality, where every guest is treated as a friend. In 1968 feeling that she needed a change, Donna sold the ranch and retired.

It was a short retirement. In 1970 Donna was shown an eighty-acre working ranch near Bend, Oregon, located in a small valley surrounded by rocky, pine-covered hills, where a lodge and guest houses could be built on rimrock, and horses could graze on lush grass in spring-fed meadows. This was the location of which she had dreamed and in June that same year, Rock Springs Guest Ranch was opened to guests. Rather than a resort it was a place of fun and informality, a symbol of a way of life with roots in the Old West.

Donna Gill is widely recognized for her perception and leadership in developing Central Oregon as an outstanding recreation area. The twinkle in her eye, the soft voice and gentle manner, bely the courage and strength that carried her along the new trails blazed by her inquiring mind and adventurous spirit—only slightly diminished now by her 71 years. She is a force for good in her community, as well as at Rock Springs Guest Ranch, where guests receive a warm welcome from this unassuming, gracious lady as they begin—or return—to share in her dream.

Theta Takes O'Connor's Seat on Court of Appeals

Sarah Dickinson Grant first knew Sandra Day O'Connor when they both worked in the Arizona State Attorney's Office. Later they were both judges in the Superior Court of Maricopa County. Shortly after, their professional paths crossed again. Sandra O'Connor was appointed to the Arizona Court of Appeals and later, Sarah Grant became presiding criminal judge of the Superior Court. He who has quickened multitudes to mirth,
 Who won their frank applause, their hearty laughter,
 Has bade a final long farewell to earth,
 And sought the pathway to the Grand Hereafter.

A Marathon

We

by Nancy Mason Keith, Director of Pledge Education

The Theta Theory

Starting Blocks

A marathon is a 26.2 mile race that athletes around the world regard as the ultimate running event. The glamour that this event holds is most vivid in the Olympics, the Boston Marathon, and "Chariots of Fire." A marathon is long enough to sufficiently challenge runners, yet not so long as to be beyond the capabilities of those who contemplate it.

So it is with Kappa Alpha Theta's pledge education program, an eight week period of preparation before initiation. The pledge period has enough to challenge; yet it is within the capability of outstanding college women. It is a time for pledges to gain an appreciation of Kappa Alpha Theta principles and ideals, an understanding of responsibilities and privileges, and a commitment to fulfill Theta goals throughout college and for a lifetime.

The basic purpose of Theta's pledge program is to develop good members. The responsibility for the success of the pledge orientation falls on each member. Members are the role models for the pledges; their actions and attitudes are the guides which pledges choose to follow.

Just as a runner plans and trains for a marathon, the pledge committee of a college chapter determines goals for a pledge program. A look at four goals for a productive pledge program provides an insight into the most important activity for the building of a quality chapter.

The goals are:

1. To help each pledge achieve her potential.
2. To develop group participation skills which teach leadership and generate teamwork.
3. To promote positive personal interactions which develop close, caring-sharing friendships.
4. To gain fraternity awareness which builds Theta loyalty not only during college, but for a lifetime.

The Long Stretch

The process of bringing the talents of a runner to a most efficient and integrated state is called "peaking." Peaking in a well planned pledge program brings optimal performance to the chapter.

Prime motivators of a good pledge program are pride, acceptance and understanding. An enhanced self-respect and heightened sense of confidence emerge from the pledges.

Pledges are drawn into chapter activities, serving on committees, participating in the setting of chapter goals, and helping to choose and plan chapter functions. Pledges already have so much in common, that they are naturally drawn together. The challenge is to integrate them into chapter activities. A young woman pledges the chapter, not the pledge class, and the emphasis is on meaningful interaction between pledges and members.

The goal of pledge lessons is understanding and application, rather than memorization of material. It emphasizes the practical side of leadership—chapter management, fraternity education and human interaction which continues into the post-college world.

In the 80's there is an emphasis on the individual pledge. Each has different goals, talents and skills. Needs and expectations of pledges are defined and met, to make Theta membership a powerful incentive to bring out the best in individuals.

Mean

to Win

Pledge Education

Hurdles

Along the route, the runner encounters hurdles. One obstacle created in the fraternity climate is hazing. According to Lissa Bradford, Grand President, "There are a few who continue to encourage, or at least tolerate the subtle types of mental and emotional hazing going on in our chapters today. As long as the concept remains that a pledge must earn the right to be initiated, Kappa Alpha Theta is not free of hazing."

The second hurdle encountered in pledge education is time abuse. A main purpose of Kappa Alpha Theta is to promote intellectual growth. Yet, for the first time in many years, this past year saw the decline in the percentage of Theta pledges who became initiated members. Emphasis on scholastic achievement and time for study is taking a back seat to a myriad of chapter sponsored activities. In an effort to insure participation, more and more events become mandatory.

These hurdles diminish as college chapters create an atmosphere to stimulate scholastic achievement and leadership development.

Crossing the Line

Thoreau says dreams are the "touchstones of our character." When the ultimate dream of pledgeship is an attainable goal achieved with worthwhile meaning and enduring influence, then membership in Kappa Alpha Theta will mean the precious interests of our fraternity are inherited for safe keeping.

It has been said many times that the quality and character of Kappa Alpha Theta can be determined by the quality of the pledge program. It's a race to be sure—a race against time, against the obstacles placed in our path by unwise chapter planning and even outworn traditions. As the period of pledgeship stretches out toward the finish line we realize the effort has not been made in vain. This is a marathon we mean to win!

* Contributors of $100 or more

Maintaining the momentum of the original Loyally in Theta Fund drive, the second annual appeal to the membership resulted in contributions totalling $186,591.48 up to August 1, 1982. To the 8,536 Thetas who accepted the opportunity to contribute to the growth and excellence of the Fraternity, goes a special "Thank you" from Grand Council. Your loyalty and support will ensure the continued adequate funding for fraternity extension and programs.

*Patricia Doyle Powell, Alpha Omicron
Grand Council 1972-74*

Patricia Powell dies after long illness

Patricia Doyle Powell played a leadership role in the fraternity for many years until illness forced her to give up her Theta involvements.

She died September 5, 1982 in Lubbock, Texas.

Pat Powell was a member of Alpha Omicron chapter at the University of Oklahoma. She was born in Oklahoma. After her graduation from OU she married Jack Powell. They lived in Big Springs, Texas for many years where Jack was administrator of the Veterans' Hospital.

In 1964 Pat became president of the Houston Alumnae Chapter. Her demonstrated leadership in one of Theta's largest alumnae groups, led to her appointment as Alumnae District President of District XII in 1967. District XII includes Texas and Louisiana. In 1972 she was elected to Grand Council where she served for two years on the Alumnae Committee.

Besides her husband Jack Powell, she is survived by her daughter Ann Louise of Lubbock, and three sons John D. of Carlton, OK, James A. of Houston, and Patrick W. of Fort Worth; and five grandchildren.

Theta Concern

Community Involvement Project Winners

Thousands of Thetas give their support to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation individually and through their local chapters and clubs. The Foundation in turn has a program which funnels monies back into local communities through the Community Involvement Project.

At each Grand Convention the Foundation Trustees award at least ten CIP grants to deserving local charities in which Thetas are personally involved. This year $1200 was given to each of the following philanthropic projects:

Hospice of the Valley San Jose, California
Girls' Country Auxiliary Houston, Texas
Muncie Children's Museum Muncie, Indiana
Shalom House Denver, Colorado
Operation HOWDY Ft. Worth, Texas
"I'm Thumbody" Fargo, North Dakota
Christie School Portland, Oregon
Methodist Hospital Communication Center
Stroke Group Minneapolis, Minnesota
Northwest Pilot Project Portland, Oregon
Middle Road Traveler Houston, Texas

HOSPICE OF THE VALLEY: This facility has been serving Cupertino, Campbell, Los Gatos, Saratoga and parts of San Jose for nearly two years. Their mission is to provide physical, psychological, and spiritual support to terminally ill cancer patients and their families. The uniqueness of the Hospice of the Valley approach is in the quality of their volunteers and their extensive reliance upon them. Nearly all direct patient care is carried out by volunteer registered nurses, respite workers, chaplains, and other professional and non-professional volunteers, all working under medical direction to provide comfort, care and emotional support to the dying patient and his family.

Thetas have been involved with the Hospice since its inception. Two Thetas are presently a part of the hospice team and give their time to cancer patients in the patient's home. Members of the San Jose Alumnae Chapter have been responsive in supporting the Hospice.

GIRLS' COUNTRY AUXILIARY: Rose Fraser Jacobson, Alpha Phi '53 applied for a CIP grant on behalf of Girls' Country just outside of Houston. Girls' Country was established to care for girls whose parents are unable to care for them. It is designed to be a neighborhood within a community where people care if a child has been hurt or abandoned. Rose Jacobson works with the auxiliary which raises money to provide items necessary to care for the girls. The Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation grant will provide funds necessary to equip a new kitchen in a recently constructed cottage that houses eight girls, from five to 16 years. The home has no government support nor United Way contributions. They depend upon individual and foundation contributions.

MUNCIE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM: This museum was organized in 1977 with the specific goal of enriching the cultural climate of Muncie children with emphasis on experiences especially focused on them; providing facilities suitable for participation in activities related to appropriate themes; providing experiences that result in participation, imagination, exploration and realization. Exhibits are both conceptual and object oriented. An example is the "Learn Not to Burn" exhibit. Children are given the opportunity to practice skills required to exit a burning building safely, after seeing a fire safety film strip.

Thetas have been involved since the beginning. Muncie alumna, Elizabeth Marshall was the chief organizer and served as the first President of its Board of Directors. Other alumnae have worked with Delta Sigma chapter members to offer birthday packages with games, refreshments and decorations.

The Foundation's CIP grant will aid in establishing the "Who Am I" exhibit. This special project opened this past fall, and it will encourage children to develop a positive self-image through discoveries about themselves utilizing a variety of sensory experiences.

SHALOM HOUSE: Licensed in the state of Colorado, the Shalom House is a residential child care facility sponsored by the United Faith Ministries. It provides formalized and professional treatment for girls 14-18 who have been referred to the house by social services. These girls cannot return home because of the death of parents, unstable home conditions, abuse, abandonment. Shalom House teaches emotional as well as practical living skills that lead to independence. Their request for a CIP grant was specifically for the publication of an emancipation book for disadvantaged teenage girls. Thetas in the Denver Alumnae Chapter will assist with the editing, artwork and marketing of the finished product, the Shalom House HELP Book.

OPERATION HOWDY: This project enables hearing impaired persons to have telephone contact with the whole community for emergency, business, medical and social purposes. When a hearing impaired person needs to call a hearing person, he or she dials HOWDY'S number on a telephone teletype communication device. The HOWDY operator on duty reads the teletyped message to the hearing person using a second telephone, then relays the message back to the hearing impaired caller via teletype. Operation HOWDY is sponsored by the Tarrant County Services for the Hearing Impaired in Ft. Worth. Two Theta alumnae serve on the Board of Directors, Maurine Butler Goodrich and Phyllis Tinney Nowlin. Other Ft. Worth Thetas are active volunteers and the Ft. Worth Alumnae Chapter has made significant contributions to TCSHI.

Operation Howdy is a creation of the Goodrich Center for the Deaf, which occupies a house built by Maurine Goodrich, Alpha Omicron, and given to the Tarrant County Services for the Hearing Impaired. This gift to the hearing impaired of Tarrant County is just one of many philanthropic endeavors of Maurine Butler Goodrich to benefit the Ft. Worth Community. Kappa Alpha Theta is proud to assist the work of Maurine Goodrich and fellow alumnae in Ft. Worth with a grant from the Foundation through the Community Involvement Program.

"I'M THUMBODY": Thetas in Fargo, North Dakota are involved in a self esteem program for third graders which is sponsored by the Mental Health Association. Trained volunteers present classroom sessions relating to the development of a good self concept and ways to handle stresses of everyday life in school and at home. The CIP grant will allow the Fargo Alumnae Chapter to sponsor the "I'M THUMBODY" project. Thetas will work together with other community volunteers to coordinate the implementation and scheduling of the programs throughout the Fargo school system.

METHODIST HOSPITAL COMMUNICATION CENTER STROKE GROUP: Addressing the emotional and social needs of persons with speech and language problems resulting from stroke, is the primary purposes of the Communication Center Stroke Group. Brain damage from stroke can result in the loss of speech, understanding, reading and writing skills.

The Minneapolis Alumnae Chapter has supported this project since 1978. Thetas contribute time and energy to this program which is designed for adults with communication difficulties resulting from stroke.

NORTHWEST PILOT PROJECT: Located in Portland, Oregon, the Northwest Pilot Project helps the elderly, blind, disabled and low income citizens maintain themselves within their own residences. Thetas have volunteered to assist these people by serving in a one-on-one personal relationship providing companionship and assisting with routine chores. The Foundation's CIP grant was specifically requested for purchase of a new copy machine which is necessary for continued communication with volunteers and the project's administration.

MIDDLE ROAD TRAVELER: This project was developed by the Texas Institute for Families, Inc. It is a series of 12 thirty minute videotapes prepared for junior high students to teach the importance of developing a sense of responsibility. There are segments on good nutrition, home safety, communication skills, child development, discipline, law and many others. The CIP grant will expand the delivery of this program beyond the original site locations, into other cities in Texas. This parenting package is timely, and received the endorsement of the White House Conference on Families. A Houston Theta, Tyrrell Flawn Hill, was instrumental in preparing the grant proposal for the Texas Institute for Families.

The Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation is proud to be able to support all of these worthwhile community projects. The continued participation of Thetas throughout the country makes it possible for the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation to support local Thetas in their hometown philanthropies. KEEP APPRECIATING THETA.

With the establishment of an Educational Trust Fund in the name of her mother, former Grand President Margaret Killen Banta, Margaret Banta Humleker furnishes Thetas with a personal glimpse of Monnie Banta's long involvement in the leadership of Kappa Alpha Theta.

From my early childhood, my mother, Margaret Killen Banta, and Kappa Alpha Theta were inseparable in my mind. Mother was a natural to do fraternity work because she had "charisma"—such a tired word these days, but I cannot think of a better one to describe the impact she had on people.

Mother's involvement with Theta was atypical. She attended prep school at Lawrence College (now University) in her home town of Appleton, Wisconsin. Prep students were allowed to join fraternities, then mostly locals, and she became a member of Kappa Upsilon. Then she went East to Smith College, and while she was there, Kappa Upsilon became Alpha Psi chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mother went home to be initiated with the group and returned to Smith, so she was a Grand President who had never been an undergraduate Theta.

Her serious involvement with the Greek movement began when she married my father, George Banta, Jr. His grandfather, Judge David Demaree Banta, was one of the very early initiates into Phi Delta Theta; his father, George Banta, Sr., was the first President of their General Council. Dad, too later became President of Phi Delta; in fact he and Mother headed their groups at the same time. But the family's Greek interests went deeper than that; due to their connections, my father and grandfather were able to secure for the family publishing business the production of the lion's share of the fraternity and sorority magazines, and we still do some of them, including the one you are reading. For many years, we published Banta's Greek Exchange. My mother was one of the editors, reading all the individual magazines and culling items of interest. She went to the office for an hour or so each morning and got paid five dollars a week!

In the mid-1920's she told my father she thought she would like to get into fraternity work as he was doing. He said he felt she would have a better chance if she finished college. (She had left Smith after her junior year.) In those days it was very rare indeed for a married woman to return to school, but mother went back to Lawrence for a couple of winters, got mostly A's and graduated triumphantly in 1928.

Four years later she became Grand President of Kappa Alpha Theta. It was a job that she thoroughly enjoyed, and I think she was very good at it. She loved traveling about visiting the chapters.

However, mother's uncertain health interfered with her term of office; she had to have surgery and felt that she had not been able to give her all to Theta. She offered to serve a second term, during which she was well enough to fulfill her duties. In 1936, when she was to retire, she took me with her to Grand Convention at Glacier National Park. I had just finished my junior year in high school and could not attend the meetings, but I had a great time. It was then the custom for the Blackfeet Indians of Montana to adopt into their tribe whatever VIP's came to Glacier Park. Mother and the rest of Grand Council did not exactly stack up with Presidents Coolidge and Hoover, who were earlier inductees, but they got the full treatment nonetheless, in a colorful ceremony which had the whole convention joining in the dance. Mother got a certificate and an Indian name. She had a lovely pale blue chiffon gown for the banquet, but when everyone assembled it was discovered that there were no less than five duplicates, in several colors! She found this very amusing.

Two years later I was initiated into Alpha Psi chapter with the 1872 badge which a member of my father's family sent to mother when she became Grand President.

For a number of years Mother "kept her hand in" by serving as delegate to the National Panhellenic Conference. When she retired in 1956 she was honored at the Grand Convention at Banff, which was dedicated to her. Mother was having emotional difficulties at this time and spent nearly all her time in bed. But on the occasions she was to appear, no one would have known this. She was as she had always been, Monnie Banta, and as always they loved her.

Her last Theta function was the Centennial Convention at Coronado, in 1970. She was 76 and had retreated somewhat from life, but she managed to have a ball. Everyone made a big fuss over her and she adored it. We attended a session together, and she was a little intimidated by the super-businesslike atmosphere.

Mother's two granddaughters, Virginia Banta Michel and my own daughter, Anne Killen Humleker Heintz, were by a remarkable coincidence chronicled in this magazine several years ago when Ginger Banta was initiated into Beta Sigma chapter at Southern Methodist and Anne Humleker into Beta Tau, Denison, both of which chapters were installed consecutively by their grandmother. The initiates of course wore the 1872 Theta badge.

Monnie Banta's career was sprinkled with favorite stories. One of them concerned our first founder, Bettie Locke Hamilton. Bettie Locke lived into her nineties. Toward the end of her life she was brought to a convention where the officers took turns taking her under their wings. Mother had her one evening when it was time to dress for dinner, so Mother pulled off her dress and went to the closet in her slip to get another one. When she turned around, there stood Mrs. Hamilton with her hands modestly covering her eyes!

Mother died in 1974 when she was eighty years old. It is my great pleasure to do something which I hope will help other Thetas to remember her. She loved us all.

Margaret Banta Humleker, Alpha Psi, Lawrence, '41.
